Practice area under Energy and Infrastructure

Plesner's work in Greenland spans various sectors, including construction, mining, energy production, defence industry, as well as maritime and aviation. We possess in-depth knowledge of both local and international legal matters relevant to Greenland.

We provide specialised advice ranging from licenses and major infrastructure projects to complex transactions and disputes. Plesner's unique insight into Greenlandic affairs gained through decades of advisory work, combined with our broad international network, ensures that our clients receive advice that is both comprehensive and well-founded. Our team also offers strategic guidance on environmental and planning law, as well as assistance with ESG considerations crucial for sustainable development in the Arctic regions.

Our Greenland team collaborates closely with specialists from other specialties in Plesner. This interdisciplinary cooperation ensures that we can offer our clients a holistic service covering all legal aspects of their projects and business interests in Greenland.

Plesner's team is internationally recognised for our expertise and has been recommended by several international legal publications. We have a strong track record, including advising leading mining and energy companies, as well as assisting with high-profile infrastructure projects and transactions in Greenland.

We are proud of our commitment to Greenland's development and our ongoing work supporting our clients in the region. Our in-depth knowledge of both Greenlandic legislation, authorities, and legal system, combined with our close connections to local authorities and businesses, positions us uniquely to provide effective and insightful advice. By understanding both the local and broader international contexts, Plesner ensures that our clients' interests are optimally protected and promoted in Greenland.
