Anne Sofie is an economist in our Economic Analysis team. She provides economic analyses and insights to support legal and regulatory matters.

PRACTICE AREAS

EU and Competition Law
Economic analyses

Anne Sofie advises on merger control cases, offering guidance from the initial stages of strategic assessment through to the submission of merger filings and final clearance. She has experience with intricate transactions, including Phase II merger investigations involving remedies and detailed analyses of competitive effects.

Her work extends beyond merger control to disputes, where she has experience with damages claims relating to cartel infringements and abuse of dominance. In competition law cases, she combines economic analysis with experience in damages quantification, processes involving economic expert reports, and settlement negotiations.

Anne Sofie's experience covers a wide range of industries, including transport, shipping, insurance, energy, and construction – each with its own competitive dynamics and regulatory challenges.

Anne Sofie holds a Master's degree in Economics from Aalborg University.
