Ongoing advice

Do you need answers to specific legal questions or general legal sparring in your construction project? You can get help via your own Plesner Enterprise Hotline.

A dedicated team familiarises themselves with your construction project and is then ready to answer your questions. Any issues are handled before they escalate into conflicts, ensuring a smooth construction process.

Legal issues often arise during a construction process. To ensure proper sparring and quick advice for the stakeholders in the process, Plesner has launched the Plesner Enterprise Hotline. The hotline can be used by both clients and contractors and possibly as a supplement to internal legal staff.
