Amalie is an assistant attorney in Plesner's Corporate Law team. She has experience assisting large commercial foundations, associations, and enterprises in corporate law matters.

PRACTICE AREAS

Corporate Law

Amalie primarily advises Danish and international clients on corporate matters relating to company law, foundation law, and commercial law. She provides legal assistance within a wide range of corporate law areas, spanning from national and cross-border conversions, mergers and divisions and company management to corporate governance and formation and dissolution of companies.

Amalie has a Master's degree in Law from the University of Copenhagen and has studied a semester abroad at the University of Melbourne.

Corporate law matters often require a dedicated team with a solution-focused approach to any given issue. Plesner's Corporate Law team is often praised for the team's unwavering ability to collaborate, communicate clearly and its commercial focus, which ensures the best possible product for the client. The team advises on all aspects of corporate law and related practice areas.
