Amalie is an attorney-at-law in our Employment and Labour Law team.

PRACTICE AREAS

Employment and Labour Law

Amalie advises Danish and international clients on a broad variety of employment and labour law matters, including hiring and termination of employees, changes to existing terms and conditions of employment, bonus schemes, restrictive covenants, and discrimination.

She also advises on the implementation and administration of whistleblower schemes.

Amalie has solid experience assisting with investigation cases and frequently assists clients in employment-related litigation cases.
