Power, Grids & Electrification

Practice area under Energy and Infrastructure

We advise electricity producers, consumers, investors and infrastructure operators on the regulatory and commercial framework governing electricity generation, transmission, distribution and consumption.

Our expertise includes grid access and connection, tariffs, network regulation, electrification, flexibility and major new electricity demand.

As an example, our work has included these matters:

- CDPQ - Radius: Advised CDPQ on the acquisition of Ørsted's power distribution company, Radius, including regulatory and energy law aspects of the transaction.
- National Grid - Viking Link: Advised National Grid on regulatory matters in connection with Viking Link, a 1.4 GW high-voltage direct current electricity interconnector between Denmark and the UK.
- Equinor - Danske Commodities: Advised Equinor on its acquisition of Danske Commodities, a leading European energy trading company, including matters relating to European energy markets and trading.
- Næstved Municipality - NKE-Elnet: Advised Næstved Municipality on the sale of NKE-Elnet to Andel, comprising the local electricity distribution network and approximately 18,000 grid customers, as part of the continued consolidation and development of electricity grid infrastructure in Eastern Denmark.
- Google: Advised Google on entering into a physical PPA with Better Energy who will supply Google with solar energy from three PV plants for a total capacity of 100 MW
- Meta - Renewable Power Procurement: Advised Meta on its PPA strategy and the preparation, negotiation and conclusion of virtual corporate PPAs for approximately 400 MW of renewable energy capacity.
- Nordic RCC - establishment of Nordic RCC, the regional coordination centre for the Nordic electricity system owned by the Nordic TSOs, including advice on its corporate and governance framework, regulatory requirements and ongoing regulatory matters.
- (Confidential) - interconnector project: Advised a leading global infrastructure fund on the contractual framework for a major 1.8 GW cross-border electricity interconnector project, including the drafting and negotiation of project, service and liability arrangements.
